Overview

- Shaping Attitudes in the workplace is a programme aimed at 16-19 year olds preparing for work placements and apprenticeships.
- This is an interactive programme aimed at improving their employability skills - addressing attitudes in Relationships and Behaviour. The section on Relationships looks in depth at Interaction, Challenges and Teamwork; while the Behaviour section focuses on Ethics, Risks, Time-keeping, diversity and other related issues.

Group 1's session concluded with participants asked to write out their goals under - financial, job, relationships and physical health for the next 6 months. Group didn't do this exercise

- There were 19 participants in total from different boroughs within the Connexions Partnership.

Managers' Feedback

Overall Comments

“Did well with a tough group”

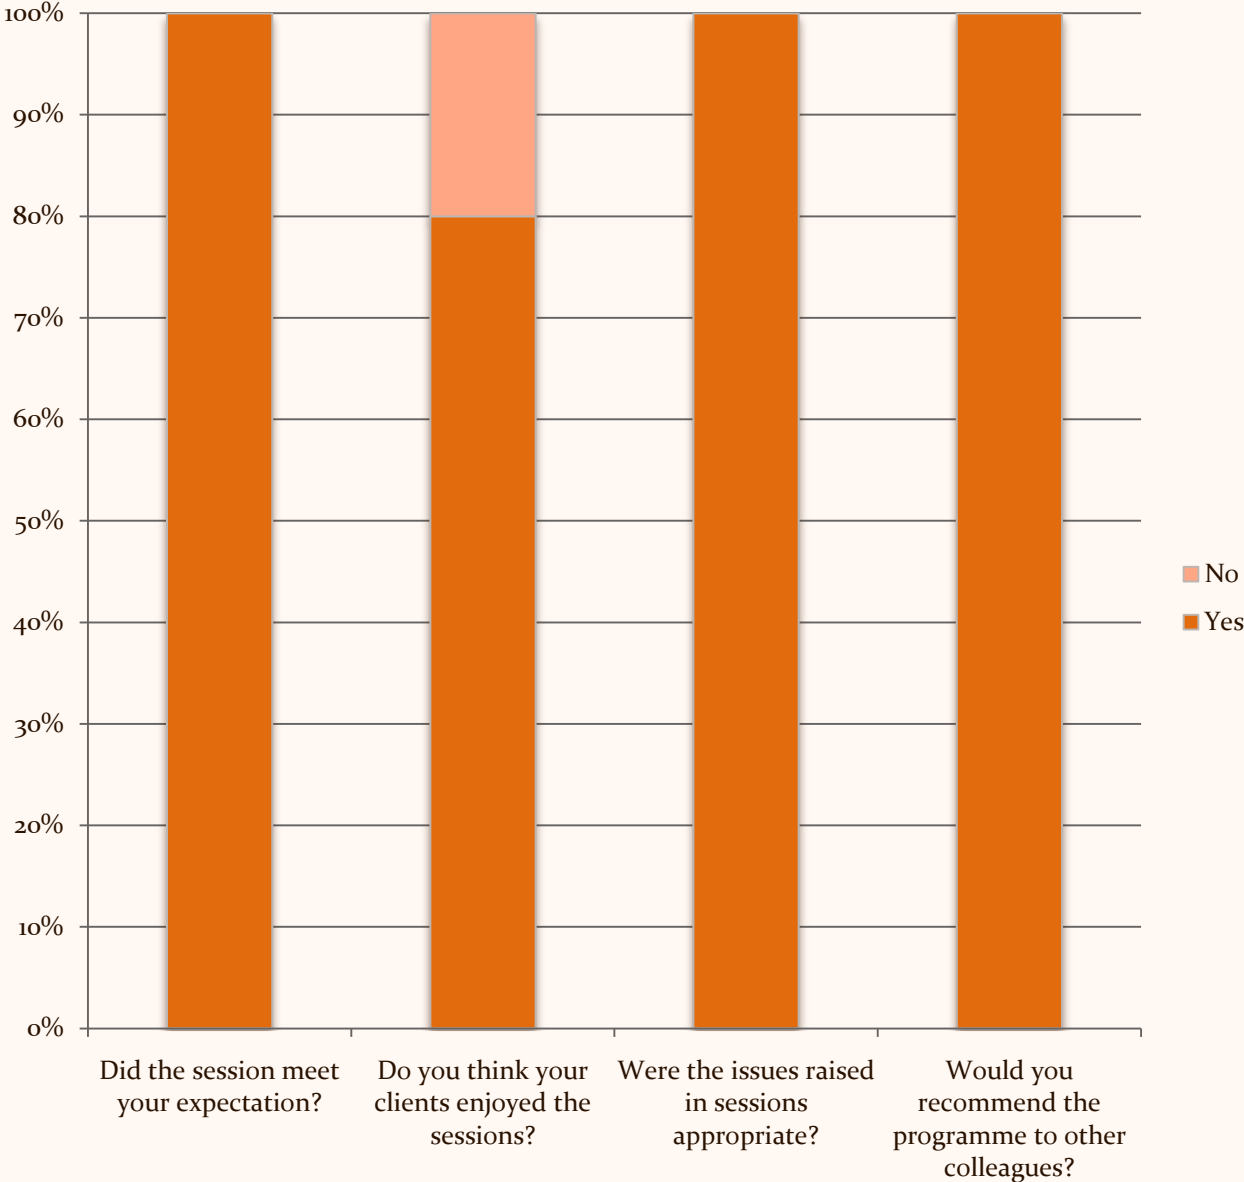

“We need to ensure learners are better prepared for the topic”

“Icebreaker at the beginning of the season would be useful as discussed. Perhaps breaking up the 1st part of the session so that it is slightly more proactive. Otherwise, very relevant issues addressed, I look forward to the next session! Thank you and well done”.

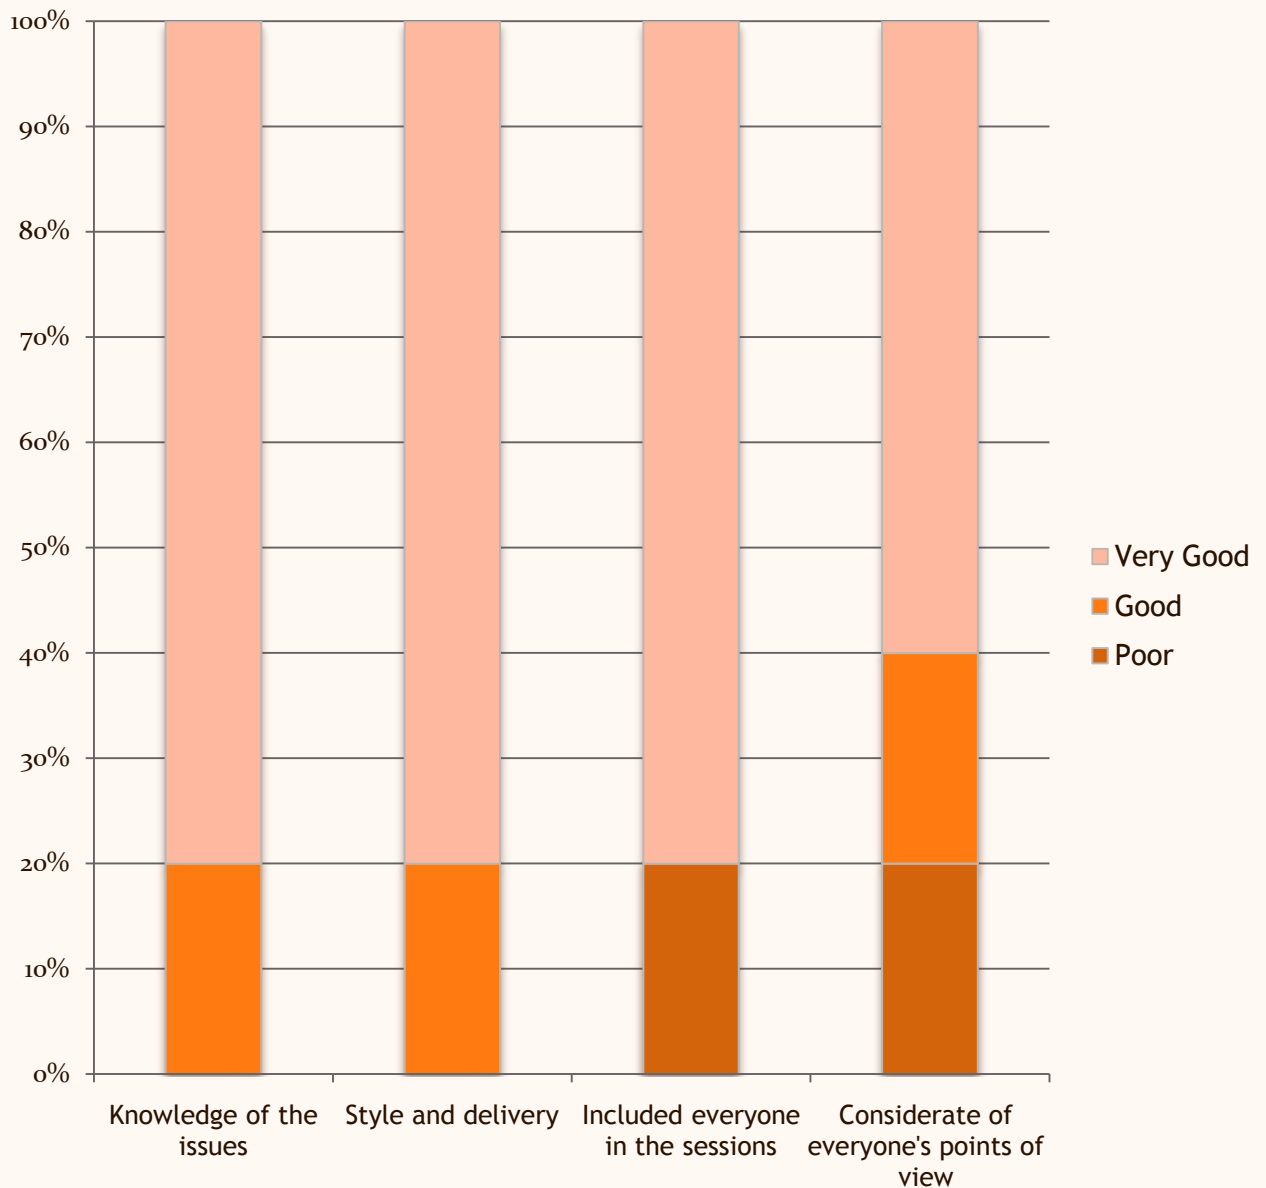

“Think the session worked better this time. The icebreaker helped the class gel and the top tips were very useful. Maybe it would be an idea to hand out a small leaflet with top tips and a few quotes for the students to take away. Thank you.”

“Overall a good workshop, definite improvement from last workshop. Transition of topics needs to be more relevant and appropriate i.e. I felt students weren't always aware that the topic referred to being in the workplace.”
