Overview

- Shaping Attitudes in the workplace is a workshop aimed at 16-19 year olds preparing for work placements and apprenticeships.
- This is an interactive workshop aimed at improving their employability skills - addressing attitudes in Relationships and Behaviour. The section on Relationships looks in depth at Interaction, Challenges and Teamwork; while the Behaviour section focuses on Ethics, Risks, Time-keeping and other related issues.

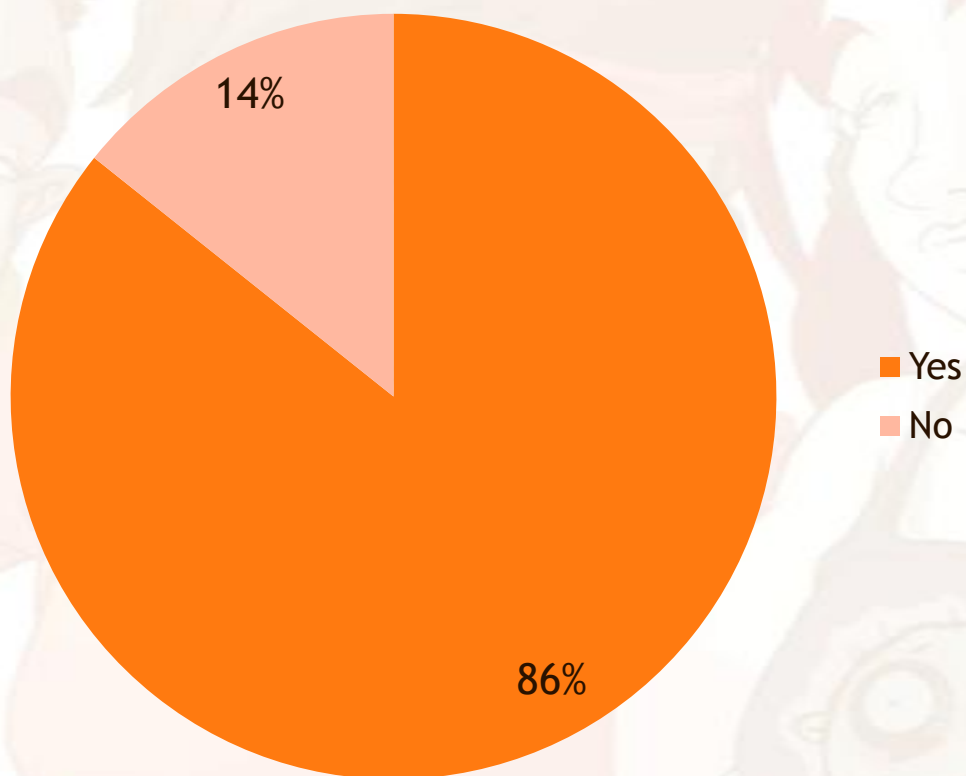

The session concluded with students asked to write out their goals under - financial, job, relationships and physical health for the next 6 months.

- Majority of the students are part of Career Academies UK network.

An illustration of three diverse students in a friendly conversation. On the left, a young man with dark skin and curly hair is smiling. In the center, a young woman with long dark hair and a red headband is also smiling. On the right, a young man with light skin and red hair is looking towards the woman. The background is a soft, light brown gradient with a decorative white and brown wave at the top. The text 'Students' feedback' is overlaid in the center-right.

Students' feedback

Did you enjoy the sessions?

Participants were asked: “what part did you enjoy and found useful for the future”

These are their comments:

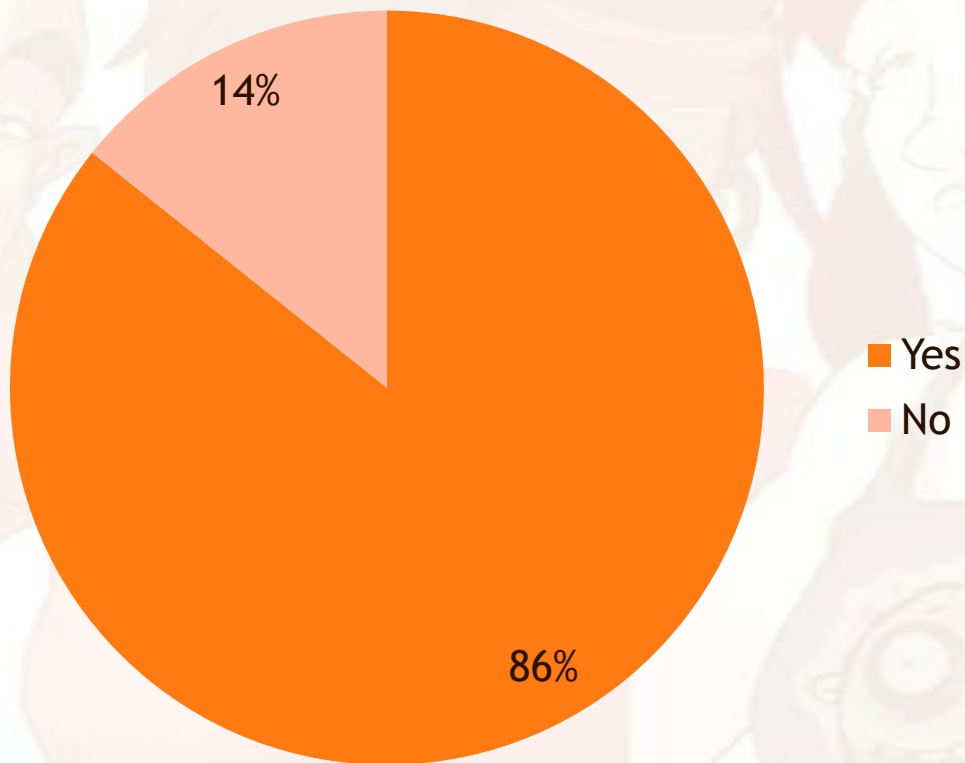

“The scenarios that we did in groups”

“The only part that said what you should do with a customer complaint”

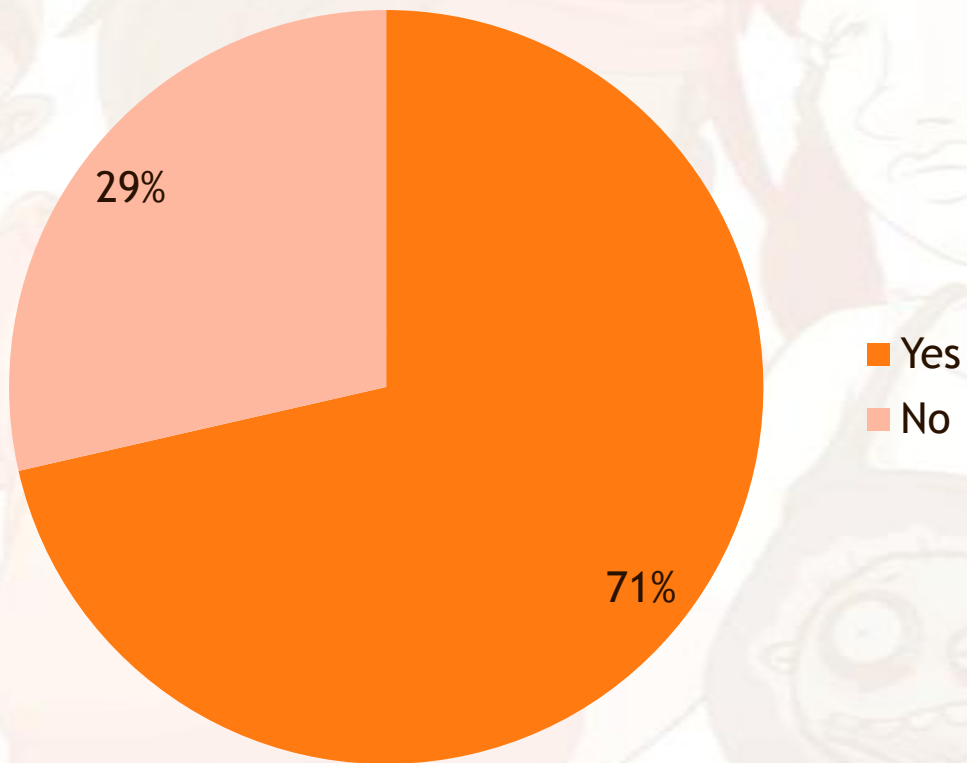

“Role plays”

“The conversations around personal opinions”

Were the issues important for me to know?

Should the programme include other issues?

These are the comments:

“Multicultural issues and tolerance”

“An example of bad attitude and good attitude; maybe a video and compare the two”

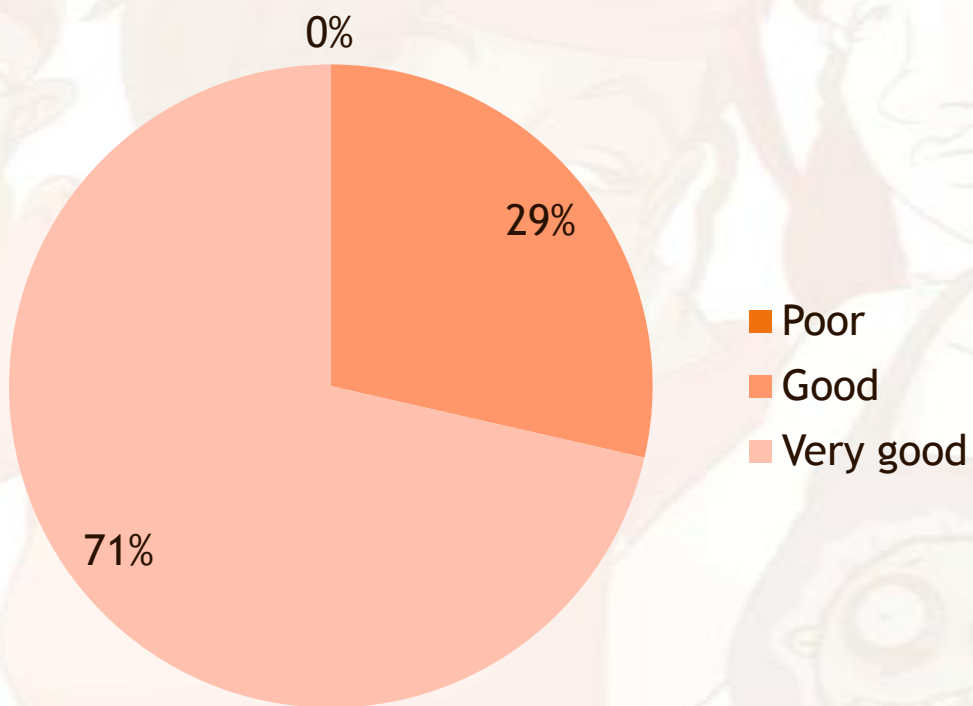

“There are different types of learners and this should be catered for”

“Videos”

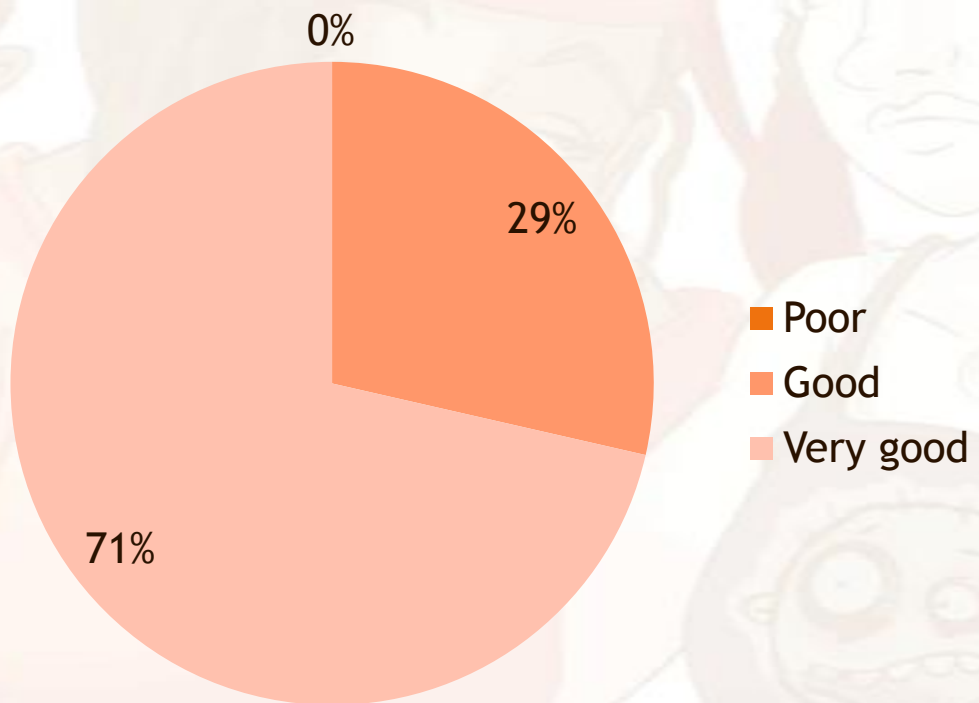

The background features a soft, faded illustration of three diverse individuals—a man on the left, a woman in the center, and a man on the right—all smiling and engaged in conversation. The woman in the center is wearing a red top with a white starburst graphic. The man on the right is wearing a dark t-shirt with a cartoon character that has large eyes and a wide, toothy grin. The overall color palette is warm, with shades of orange and brown, and the text is centered in a bold, black, sans-serif font.

Your points of view were listened to

Students were asked to give any additional comments

These are the comments:

“Very well planned, however keep definitions short; add images/sketches/puzzles/videos and games. Thank you for your time”.

“Make the activities to be active e.g. Games to make the audience enthusiastic”
